

B.F. on September 26, 2020 · at 1:31 am EST/EDT

Tommy Apeiron

As I have written before, these money lenders (Rothschild's) created the US back in 1776, using freemason George Washington for the task. Until 1776 the American colonies were under Crown control, and after 1776 they became, and remained, under Rothschild's control. The US is a Rothschild's private colony, created to further their interests, like instigating endless wars at it's own expense. The expenses for this keep rising, and the current US domestic and foreign debt cannot be repayed, while the dollar is printed backed by nothing.

And the propaganda and false flags directed against Russia ? Why the continuation ? The Anglo-American elites have been reduced to the state of a drunk who wants more of the same, namely his favorite booze. The drunk cannot stop.

When the Warsaw Pact collapsed in 1989, NATO should have been dismantled, as it devoured huge sums of money. It was not. It was kept on, the Anglo-American elites going in for the kill. The target was Russia, which had to be destabilized, after which NATO would march in, place Russian missile systems under "protective control", introduce "democracy" and "human rights", after which Russia would, in the name of "democracy", be broken up, opening the way for the plunder of Siberia and the Caspian region, something the late political economist Lyndon LaRouche foresaw, as only plundering can save the US dollar.

Well, it did not turn out that way. Russia survived and returned to it's status of a super power and, to the horror of the Anglo-American elites, created an economic partnership with China, something the Rothschild's feared since the 19th century, when Bismarck advocated an economic alliance between Germany, Russia and China. Such an alliance was prevented by two world wars, when Germany was turned against Russia. As for China, the Korean and Vietnam wars were fought for the US to establish a foothold in both countries, as both have frontiers with China, which would subsequently have been destabilized, after which US troops would have, in a pincer movement, poured into the country, establishing a puppet regime. It never came to that.

And what next ? I don't think that the Anglo-American elites know the answer to that question. Their globalist anti-Russian and anti-Chinese imperial plans are collapsing. Instead of being destroyed, both countries are on the rise. And the Rothschild's private colony on the North American continent, known as the US ? It is certainly collapsing due to it's foreign and domestic debt, not to mention it's imperial foreign policy, creating a heap of enemies, as empires always do. The question now is if the Rothschild will permit their colony to collapse, or if they will try and save it, driving it to do something dangerous and foolish. We shall see.

Finally, I would like to point out that some years ago London was, according to one private analyst, holding covert talks in Moscow on the possibility of Britain joining the Euro-Asian Economic Union. I don't know how true that claim was, nor what the results of those talks were. However, I would not be surprised if such negotiations were held, nor would I be surprised if the Rothschild's sacrificed their US colony, falling back on Canada. We shall see. The time period after the November elections is going to be very interesting indeed.